AMUSEMENTS.

Charles H. Yale's "Painting the Town" the big musical spectacular of Charles H. Yale Amusement company, will be seen tonight and matinee today at the Salt Lake theatre. The two gentlemen JOHNSON.—Ogda Levinia, daughter of who are mainly instrumental in produc-Halliday. Mazie King, queen of dancers, is the little lady who, it is said, fairly electrifies you with her original creation, Utopia or The Land of the Fancy, which s given in three scenes.

Seats are now ready for the engagement of Wilton Lackaye in "The Bondman." Friday night, in the Salt Lake theatre, where this capital actor will be seen for the first time here in his new role, that of Jason of the North. The play, as is by now pretty generally known, is Hall Caine's own dramatization of his very successful and long-popular novel of like title; and it had a long run in London previously to its production on this side of the Atlantic for Mr. Lackaye's use.

The bill at the Orpheum continues to draw big houses daily. The Pacchiani troupe, the headliners, appear to be growing in popularity.

There will be a performance of "The King of the Opium Ring" at the Grand theatre tonight. Mr. Lorch is admirably cast in this production as "Wah Sing," the Chinese highbinder, and the entire

The bill for the remainder of the week, commencing this evening will be "Teez," Weezy," a Weber-Fieldian absurdity. This will be voted by many one of the best things the Zinn Travesty company does. At any rate the offering is intended to create laughter and afford the thirty people in the troupe an opportunity to sing and dance and tell their funny
